Hello,

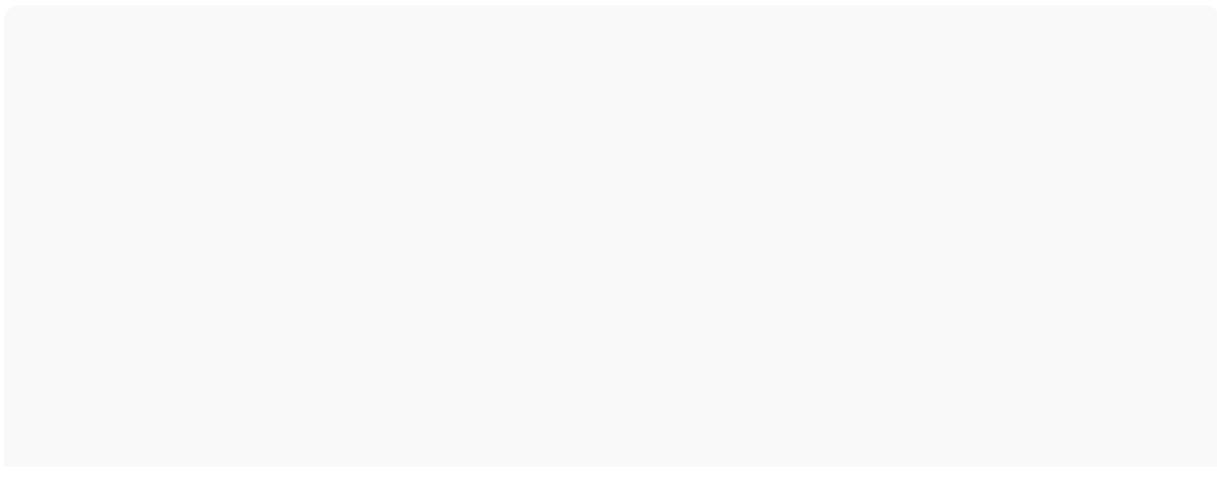

We recently moved to Granbury and were really excited to be living near the lake; I saw this post and am very concerned for myself, and everyone else who is actively participating in lake activities. What is this???? I won't say what it looks like, especially after reading posts on the video (see below)

Not to long ago there was sewage spilling into the streets, have they rerouted it to the lake to fix the issue. Thinking it got sweep under the rug.

Here's the drain location behind the Town Lake Apartments.

Yep. That pipe comes from water treatment plant

- Sky Harbour

That's the outtake for the sewage treatment plant across the road. It stayed that color for several days. There was no smell associated with it. Not sure if it was untreated sewage or not. It is now running clear again.  (Hope this is not the case) ***

Thank You,

Heather
