Thank you for allowing input via this email. I would like to advocate for SBEC to remain a functioning entity for education in Texas. It is not an expensive board to support and has played an important role in offering a voice about the systemic impact of proposed statewide decisions. In addition, it performs the very valuable service of "policing" the profession, serving as the body that oversees investigations and hearings regarding teachers maintaining or losing their certification.

With the many cuts to the Texas Education Agency amidst the growing Education industry in Texas, SBEC seems to be a cost-effective and important entity to maintain in order to support and oversee educator certification to assure high quality standards for the State.

I appreciate your consideration of my views.
