Subject: TDLR licensed breeder

Hello,

I thought I would give my opinion on the licensing breeding program. I am decreasing the dogs in my breeding program due to their licensing requirements. To have an employee of TDLR that has never raised a litter or even own a dog tell me how to run my program. Then to see some of the kennels pass inspection and wonder how?? There is no consistency with each new inspector that comes here. It is a waste of my time and money. I will no longer need to be licensed very soon. After 37 years of breeding I am calling it quits thanks to TDLR. I have never failed an inspection but do not appreciate being told how I have to run my business.

Thank you,
