Gentlemen:

I have been teaching First Mile Defensive Driving for over 15 years and received very favorable comments from students and court officials alike. FMDD would request you keep the course the way it is. This course contains the latest updates to its curriculum every year and includes a training review each ye to keep all instructors up to date on changes. We have many clients whose insurance requires its drivers to take this course every three years.

I encourage the Sunset Commission to not make the changes outlined in your current recommendations.

Sincerely,

Morris Burns
