I think the state is correct in abolishing this unnecessary board, we didn't need it before 2001 and we don't need it now. If it does happen not be abolished, I'd like to see EVERYONE have to pass the test. That way we can be sure EVERYONE is qualified, according the the board standards. If acting geologists in 2001, hadn't been grandfathered in, this board never would have came to existence. I stand with the state, abolish please. Hopefully the state will continue to abolish needless boards across ALL industries. Less government is better for the people.

Sincerely,
John Casiano
