

To whom it may concern,

I am a Geoscientist-in-Training. I graduated from Stephen F. Austin State University with a Bachelor of Science in Environmental Geology in December of 2017. I passed the ASBOG fundamental exam in March of 2018. While studying for this exam I had to go beyond the curriculum that was taught at my school. There were parts of the exam that test over classes I did not have the opportunity to take while an undergraduate. Because of this, I used many resources to make myself more competent in these areas of engineering geology and geophysics. I believe that studying for this exam has made me more well rounded for when I start my career in geology. I believe this exam helps the public my making sure that the geologists are not just specialized in one area, but are well rounded in all of them.

Sincerely,

Steven Follmer G.I.T.
