TWIA Sunset Review Commission

While we appreciate the efforts of the Sunset Review Commission, we feel that the report fails to mention an important specific concern brought to the Commission by stakeholders: Why are Texas Coastal Counties segregated from the rest of Texas?

Windstorm and hail events are not unique to the Texas coast. District 23 Representative Wayne Faircloth has presented on numerous occasions the statistics showing the billions in windstorm and hail losses that occur in non-coastal counties.

The Sunset Review Commission encourages the potential restructuring of TWIA to better meet its legislative mandate. We simply ask that the creation of a state-wide catastrophic insurance plan be considered as part of the discussion.
