I believe it is in the best interest of the Texas PT profession and for the betterment of the PT patient of Texas by default for our practice to be managed, reviewed and governed by licensed DPT and PTA at a local level.

The indepth, direct access, hand-ons knowledge base and experiences of our DPT and licensed PTA is the best source of course development and evaluation to maintain and met educational benchmarks. We must ensure the highest patient safety in through review of licensure needs, this is crucial and no lesser degree in potential PT healthcare review is acceptable. Additionally, respond to and evolve the Texas PT core values and professional vision and mission in alignment with the American PT association.

As Texans, we are on the cuspid of a great patient demand with the aging of the baby boomer population, a large winter texan population that places additonal strain on the Texas healthcare system and a soring growth withing warriors, wounded warriors and their dependants that we must make the best educated and safe decisions possible within the PT healthcare feild.

With much regard,
Chelsea Skrobarcek, PTA
