Taking away this licensure would be like saying that no mechanic should have any formal training, no pilot should go to school, no school teacher should attend workshops along the way. Making one entity be available with no training from an accredited school would ultimately put the lives of many at risk everyday no matter what profession dealing with.

Any Alternative or New Recommendations on This Agency: GO BACK TO THE DRAWING BOARD AND DO MORE THOROUGH RESEARCH. This will only open up the flood gates to so many more problems. This will be the ultimate domino to fall and take out so many more along the way. I would like for the reasearch committee to actually get out and go site to site and see what these individuals actually do on a day to day bases.
